

SEASONS - SPRING

This poem contains words that rhyme – words that sound like each other. An example would be see and tree. See if you can find some rhymes.

Springtime Magic

Smiling blue sky, the day grows long
We can hear the blackbird's song
The earth is warm and welcomes showers
Springtime magic brings the flowers

Snowdrops and yellow daffodils
Pots of cress on windowsills
Wake up trees and green the lane
Leaves are growing once again

Ducklings, tadpoles, fluffy chicks
Lambs are doing bouncing tricks
Now winter waves us all farewell
Springtime magic casts its spell
